TO THE TEACHER

What is Top Notch? Top Notch is a four-level communicative course that prepares adults and young adults to interact successfully and confidently with both native and non-native speakers of English.

The goal of Top Notch is to make English unforgettable through:

- Multiple exposures to new language
- Numerous opportunities to practice it
- Deliberate and intensive recycling

The Top Notch course has two beginning levels—Top Notch Fundamentals for true beginners and Top Notch 1 for false beginners. Top Notch is benchmarked to the Global Scale of English and is tightly correlated to the Can-do Statements of the Common European Framework of Reference.

Each full level of Top Notch contains material for 60–90 hours of classroom instruction.

NEW This third edition of Top Notch includes these new features: Extra Grammar Exercises, digital full-color Vocabulary Flash Cards, Conversation Activator videos, and Pronunciation Coach videos.

Award-Winning Instructional Design*

Daily confirmation of progress

Each easy-to-follow two-page lesson begins with a clearly stated practical communication goal closely aligned to the Common European Framework's Can-do Statements. All activities are integrated with the goal, giving vocabulary and grammar meaning and purpose. Now You Can activities ensure that students achieve each goal and confirm their progress in every class session.

Explicit vocabulary and grammar

Clear captioned picture-dictionary illustrations with accompanying audio take the guesswork out of meaning and pronunciation. Grammar presentations containing both rules and examples clarify form, meaning, and use. The unique Recycle this Language feature continually puts known words and grammar in front of students' eyes as they communicate, to make sure language remains active.

High-frequency social language

Twenty memorable conversation models provide appealing natural social language that students can carry "in their pockets" for use in real life. Rigorous controlled and free discussion activities systematically stimulate recycling of social language, ensuring that it's not forgotten.

Linguistic and cultural fluency

Top Notch equips students to interact with people from different language backgrounds by including authentic accents on the audio. Conversation Models, Photo Stories, and cultural fluency activities prepare students for social interactions in English with people from unfamiliar cultures.

Active listening syllabus

All Vocabulary presentations, Pronunciation presentations, Conversation Models, Photo Stories, Listening Comprehension exercises, and Readings are recorded on the audio to help students develop good pronunciation, intonation, and auditory memory. In addition, approximately fifty carefully developed listening tasks at each level of Top Notch develop crucial listening comprehension skills such as listen for details, listen for main ideas, listen to activate vocabulary, listen to activate grammar, and listen to confirm information.

*We wish you and your students enjoyment and success with Top Notch 2.
We wrote it for you.*

How Can It Be?

Americans gain weight . . . while the French stay thin

Have you ever wondered why Americans struggle with watching their weight, while the French, who consume all that rich food—the bread, the cheese, and the heavy sauces—continue to stay thin? Now a report from Cornell University suggests a possible answer. A study of almost 300 participants from France and the U.S. provides clues about how lifestyle and decisions about eating may affect weight. Researchers concluded that the French tend to stop eating when they feel full. However, Americans tend to stop when their plate is completely empty, or they have reached the end of their favorite TV show.

According to Dr. Joseph Mercola, who writes extensively about health issues, the French see eating as an important part of their lifestyle. They enjoy food and, therefore, spend a fairly long time at the table. In contrast, Americans see eating as something to do quickly as they squeeze meals between the other activities of the day. Mercola believes Americans have lost the ability to sense when they are actually full. So they keep eating long after the French would have stopped. In addition, he argues that, by tradition, the French tend to shop daily, walking to small shops and farmers' markets where they have a choice of fresh fruits, vegetables, and eggs as well as high-quality meats and cheeses for each meal. In contrast, Americans tend to drive their cars to huge supermarkets to buy canned and frozen foods for the whole week.

Despite all these differences, new reports show that recent lifestyle changes may be affecting French eating habits. Today, the rate of obesity—or extreme overweight—among adults is only 6%. However, as American fast-food restaurants gain acceptance, and the young turn their backs on older traditions, the obesity rate among French children has reached 17%—and is growing.

A UNDERSTAND FROM CONTEXT Use the context of the article to help you choose the same meaning as each underlined word or phrase.

The Psychology of Color

According to research, colors have a powerful effect on us. Take the test and then see if your answers are confirmed by the research. You may be surprised! (Check your answers below.)

Color test

- 1) What color is the most attention-getting?
 black  yellow  red  other
- 2) What color is most likely to make people feel angry?
 black  yellow  pink  other
- 3) What color is best for a hospital room?
 pink  white  green  other
- 4) What color often makes people feel tired?
 green  blue  pink  other
- 5) What is the least appealing color for food?
 black  yellow  blue  other

Answers

1) Experts say red attracts the most attention. Using red for traffic lights and warning lights makes them more noticeable.

2) Studies have shown that being in a yellow room makes it more likely for adults to lose their tempers and for babies to cry.

3) Green is the easiest color on the eye, and it causes people to relax. Painting a hospital room green helps patients get the rest they need.

4) Research has shown that looking at pink can cause people to feel tired. Some sports teams have painted the dressing room of the opposing team pink to reduce the players' energy.

5) Researchers in marketing have found that using blue in processed foods is unappealing. They believe that this is because blue is rare in nature. Painting a restaurant red, on the other hand, increases the appetite. Many restaurants are painted red.

Questionnaire

What are your color preferences?

Look at the colors below.

Which color do you find the most appealing? _____

Which color do you most associate with happiness? _____

Which color do you most associate with being sad? _____

A CLASS SURVEY How many classmates answered the questions on the test correctly? Which color on the questionnaire was the most appealing to your classmates?

B DISCUSSION In your opinion, what makes people like some colors and dislike others?

“ I think people like colors that remind them of things they like. ”

C 4:02 PHOTO STORY Read and listen to a couple talking about what color to repaint their living room.

Later that day

Chelsea: You know what? I'm getting a little tired of looking at this wallpaper.

Chad: Well, maybe it's time for a change. What would you think about getting the room painted? I never loved that wallpaper, anyway.

Chelsea: Actually, I don't think either of us did. We only got it because we couldn't agree on a paint color.

Chad: Oh, yeah. Now I remember. You wanted pink, and I said it was too feminine.

Chelsea: Actually, I never thought it was pink. To me it was a soft rose.

Chad: Well, what would you say to a nice blue?

Chelsea: Blue? Way too masculine.

Chad: What?!

Chelsea: I'm just pulling your leg, silly! Blue would be great.

Chad: This one's nice—very relaxing.

Chelsea: True, but I'm not sure the furniture would go with it.

Chad: Good point. I'd hate to have to get all new stuff . . . You know, maybe we're on the wrong track.

Chelsea: What do you mean?

Chad: All of a sudden, I'm thinking white. It's classic, and . . .

Chelsea: And it goes with everything!

D PARAPHRASE Restate the expressions from the Photo Story in your own way.

- 2 "I'm not sure the furniture would go with it."

E THINK AND EXPLAIN All the statements are false. Explain how you know they are false.

- 1 Chelsea still likes the wallpaper.
- 2 Chelsea didn't want a rose-colored living room.

GRAMMAR Gerunds and infinitives

Gerunds and infinitives come from verb forms but function as nouns in a sentence, often as direct objects.

Gerund = an -ing form of a verb
She enjoys painting.

Infinitive = to + a base form
He wants to paint the kitchen yellow.

Use a gerund after the following verbs and expressions: avoid, discuss, dislike, don't mind, enjoy, feel like, practice, quit, suggest

Use an infinitive after the following verbs and expressions: agree, be sure, choose, decide, expect, hope, learn, need, plan, seem, want, wish, would like

Other verbs and expressions can be followed by either a gerund or an infinitive: begin, can't stand, continue, hate, like, love, prefer, start

Remember: There are two other -ing forms:

She is painting. (present participle)

The trip was relaxing. (participial adjective)

EXPLORE YOUR IDEAS In what way does a parent's behavior affect a child's development?

READING ▶ 4:09Personality: from Nature or Nurture?

What is personality? Many people define personality as a person's usual manner or style of behavior. These patterns of behavior tend to be predictable throughout a person's lifetime. Some people are introverts; others are extroverts. Some people have easygoing personalities: they are usually cheerful and calm and able to cope with life's difficulties without much trouble. Their emotions are usually under control: they don't get extremely angry about little things. Others, at the other end of the personality spectrum, are more emotional, experiencing higher highs and lower lows. Most people's personalities, however, don't fall at the extreme ends but rather fall somewhere in between.

Where do we get our personality?

For hundreds of years, psychologists and ordinary people have never stopped debating this fascinating question. Some people think personality develops as a result of the environment—the combination of influences that we learn from, such as our families, our culture, our friends, and our education. The people who believe this theory believe that all babies are born without a personality and that it's the environment that determines, or forms, each child's personality. This school of thought is called the “nurture school.”

At the other end of the continuum we find people who believe that personality is determined by “nature,” or the characteristics we receive, or “inherit,” from our parents biologically, through their genes. These people believe that our personality is not determined by the environment, but rather by genetics, and that each baby is born with a personality.

The “nature-nurture controversy”

The nature-nurture controversy is very old. Experimental psychologists have tried to discover which of these two factors, genetics or the environment, is more important in forming our personality. However, it's very difficult, if not impossible, to conduct research on real people with real lives. There's just no way to put people in a laboratory and watch them develop. For this reason, there's no scientific way to settle the nature-nurture controversy. Recently, however, most researchers have come to believe that both the environment AND the genes—nurture and nature—work together and are both important.

Even though the experts have largely discarded the idea that personality development is so black and white, the nature-nurture controversy remains a popular discussion among friends. It seems that everyone has an opinion.

A UNDERSTAND VOCABULARY FROM CONTEXT Match the words and phrases in the two columns.

Is it talent or hard work?

When children are asked to draw or paint a picture, they are happy to oblige. And they are willing to talk about and show their creation to anyone they meet. But when adults are asked to do the same thing, they typically get nervous and refuse to even try, claiming that they have no talent.

Most adults see themselves as lacking the “artistic gene.” However, when you look at drawings made by artists when they were children, their work doesn’t differ much from the scribbles and stick figures all children draw when they are young. When Don Lipski, who makes a successful living as a professional artist, looks back at drawings that he made as a child, he doesn’t find any early evidence of his own artistic talent. “I was always making things . . . doodling and putting things together. I didn’t think of myself as a creative person. I was just doing what all kids do.”

The general belief is that artistic talent is something one is born with: a person either has talent or does not. Clearly, great artists like Michelangelo or Picasso had natural talent and possessed more artistic ability than the average person. However, one factor that isn’t often considered is the role that years of training, practice, and “ I paint sometimes.

I find it relaxing. ”

“ Actually, I’m not interested in art.
I don’t really think I have any ability. ”

All young children scribble, doodle, and draw stick figures.

hard work have played in the creation of great pieces of art. In addition, most artists are successful because they are passionate about their art—they love what they do. Their passion motivates them to continue to create—and improve their ability—day after day. While natural talent may be an advantage, hard work appears to be a necessary part of the creative process.

In Drawing on the Right Side of the Brain, author Betty Edwards argues that while few people are born with natural artistic talent, all of us have the potential to improve our artistic ability. We just have to be willing to keep working at it. She claims that anyone can learn to use the right side of the brain, the side that governs visual skills like drawing and painting. In other words, artistic ability can be learned.

Frank Caruso Hey, I'm in Rome now! How do you like my new profile pic? That's the Colosseum behind me. This place is awesome!

Kathy Chu Wow! You take good selfies, Frank! You look like you're having fun! Hey, didn't you just post a message from Tokyo two days ago?

Frank Caruso I did. But I've always wanted to see Italy, so someone suggested visiting my airline's web page to look for specials. I got a great deal on a return ticket with a stop here. I'm heading back home to Boston on Friday. Did you all catch the Japan photos I posted?

Nardo Madureira No. What album are they in?

Frank Caruso Actually, they're not here. They're on that new photo-sharing site, GlobalPhoto. Log on and add me to your friends. Or I can send you a link. Click on it to go right to the pics.

Kathy Chu Well, I just looked and they're very cool. Can't wait to see the ones from Italy. I hope they're as nice as the ones from Japan! Nice chatting with you guys! Ciao!

A PAIR WORK Read the posts on the social network website. Are you on any similar sites? Do you post regularly? Why or why not?

B DISCUSSION Discuss these questions.

- 1 What photo-sharing services do you know about online? Do you store your photos on any of these sites? What are the advantages and disadvantages of photo-sharing services?
- 2 Have you ever posted photos while you were traveling? Do you know anyone who has?

C ▶ 5:02 PHOTO STORY Read and listen to a conversation in an office.

Dee: Oh hi, Amy. I'm just fooling around online. I guess I forgot about the time!

Amy: Am I interrupting you?

Dee: Not at all. Paul and I are just instant messaging.

Amy: Sorry to bother you. But I'm a little worried about something.

Dee: What's wrong?

Amy: I just got this e-mail from someone I don't know, and I clicked on the attachment to see what it was. My computer totally crashed. Everything froze, and no matter what I do, nothing happens.

Dee: Actually, you should never open an attachment if you don't know the sender. It could be malware or carry a virus.

Amy: I know. I don't know what I was thinking! It just happened so fast.

Dee: Look. First, try shutting down and restarting, OK? Sometimes that takes care of it.

Amy: You think that would work?

Dee: It couldn't hurt. Listen, Paul's still there. Let me send a quick response, OK? I'll just be a second.

Amy: No problem. I'll go and try restarting to see if that does the trick.

Identity Thieves Steal 40 Million Credit Card Numbers

Eleven hackers around the world were accused of stealing more than 40 million credit card numbers on the Internet. They included three people from the U.S. who are accused of hacking into the wireless networks of popular online stores.

Once inside these networks, they searched for customers' credit card numbers, passwords, and personal information so they could pretend to be those customers. When the identity theft was completed, credit card numbers and other details were then sold on the Internet, allowing criminals to withdraw thousands of dollars at a time from ATMs.

Cyberbullying Leads to Teenager's Death

Megan Taylor Meier, age 13, joined an online social networking group where she became online friends with a 16-year-old boy named Josh. Megan and Josh never communicated by phone or in person, but she enjoyed exchanging messages with him in the group.

Over time, Josh changed. He began to bully her daily—criticizing her personality and telling her what a bad person she was. Some of their communications were posted so everyone could see them. Josh's last message to her said, "The world would be a better place without you." A short time later, Megan committed suicide.

After her death, it was discovered that there was no "Josh." The messages came from the mother of one of Megan's classmates. The mother had been angry with Megan because she believed Megan had said some untrue things about her daughter.

Computer Viruses Are Getting Harder to Prevent

"We're losing the battle against computer viruses," says David Farber, professor of computer science at Carnegie Mellon University. These viruses, which can enter computer systems through junk e-mail from hackers, have reached epidemic proportions, slowing down computers—and sometimes causing whole office computer systems to crash—in both large and small companies. In one year alone, they were reported to have caused $13 billion USD in damage.

Companies have been trying for years to protect themselves with anti-virus programs, but criminals are creating newer, improved viruses faster than these programs can keep up with.

B DISCUSSION Do you think that computers and the Internet have brought more benefits or more problems? Support your opinions with examples.

Text-mining (optional)

Find and underline three words or phrases in the Reading that were new to you. Use them in your Discussion.
For example: "exchanging messages."

In my opinion, there are more benefits than problems. For example, it's easy to look up information, and it's really fast.

I think the Internet is OK, but there are really too many problems. First of all, you have to be very careful if you shop online with a credit card.

MORAL DILEMMAS

What should they do?

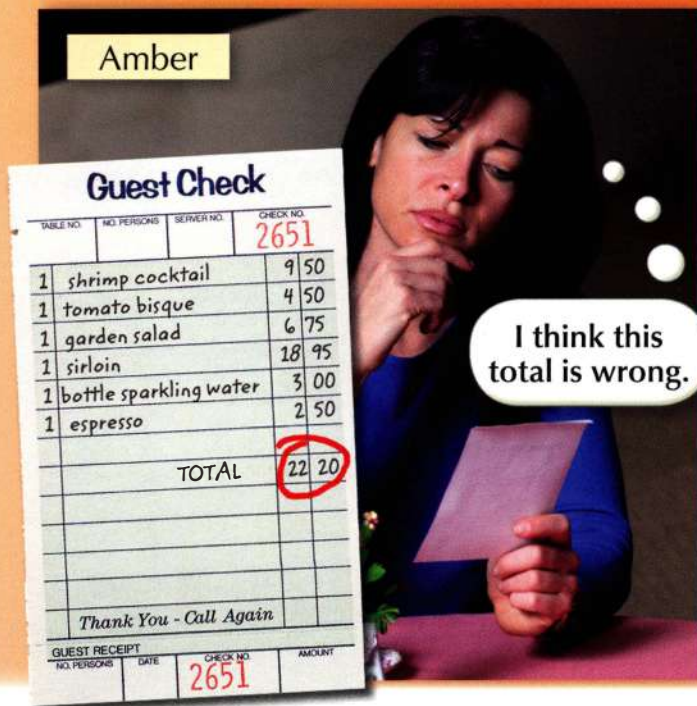

This box has the wrong price.

Uh-oh. Someone forgot that watch.

Amber

Daniel

A GROUP WORK Have you ever been faced with a moral dilemma similar to the ones in the pictures? Tell your classmates what happened.

B ▶ 5:18 PHOTO STORY Read and listen to a conversation about a moral dilemma.

Matt: I can't believe it! I just picked this up to look at it and the thing broke in two. And with these ridiculous prices, it's going to cost me an arm and a leg.

Noah: Oh, forget it. I'll bet it was already broken.

Matt: You're probably right.

Noah: Just put it back on the shelf. The place is empty. No one saw. Let's just split.

Matt: I couldn't do that.

Noah: Why not? You said it yourself. The prices are ridiculous.

Matt: Well, put yourself in the owner's shoes. Suppose the plate were yours? How would you feel if someone broke it and didn't tell you?

Noah: Well I'm not the owner.

And, anyway, for him it would be just a drop in the bucket. To you it's a lot of money.

Matt: Maybe so. But if I ran out without telling him, I couldn't face myself.

C FOCUS ON LANGUAGE Match each idiom from the Photo Story with its meaning.

GRAMMAR The unreal conditional

Meaning

Unreal conditional sentences describe the results of unreal conditions—conditions that don't exist.

unreal action or condition	result (if it were true)
If I found a wallet in the street,	I'd try to return it. (unreal: I haven't found one.)

Contraction
would → 'd

Formation

In the if clause, use the simple past tense. For the verb be, always use were.

In the result clause, use would + a base form.

unreal action or condition	result (if it were true)
If I had to make a hard decision,	I would try to do the right thing
If she knew how to speak French,	she'd help them.
If you broke something in a store,	would you pay for it?
If you were Matt,	what would you do ?
If I were you,	I wouldn't do that.
If you weren't my friend,	I wouldn't tell you what happened.

Be careful!

Don't use would in the if clause.
If I knew his name, I would tell you.
NOT If I ~~would know~~ his name . . .

Note: In real and unreal conditional sentences, the clauses can occur in either order. Use a comma if the if clause comes first.

If I knew, I would tell you. OR I would tell you if I knew.

Homeless Man Returns Wallet with $900

Posted on: Monday, 17 April

SANTA ANA, Calif. - A homeless man searching through trash bins for recyclable cans found a missing wallet and returned it to its owner. Kim Bogue, who works in the city, realized that her wallet was missing last week and doubted she'd ever get back the $900 and credit cards inside. "I prayed that night and asked God to help me," said Bogue, who was saving the money for a trip to her native Thailand.

Days later, a homeless man found the wallet wrapped in a plastic bag in the trash, where Bogue had accidentally thrown it away with her lunch. He gave it to Sherry Wesley, who works in a nearby building. "He came to me with the wad of money and said, 'This probably belongs to someone that you work with. Can you return it?'" Wesley said.

"He has a very good heart," said Bogue, who gave the man a $100 reward. "If someone else had found it, the money would have been gone."

Man Risks Life to Save Another

Many people who ride a busy urban subway wonder, "What would happen if I fell off the platform and onto the tracks? What would I do?" Others wonder, "What would I do if someone else fell?"

That question was answered in a split-second decision made by "subway hero" Wesley Autrey, a fifty-year-old New York City construction worker on his way to work. Autrey jumped onto the tracks to save a fellow passenger from an oncoming New York City subway train.

The passenger, Cameron Hollopeter, 20, a film student at the New York Film Academy, had fallen between the tracks after suffering a seizure. Autrey rolled Hollopeter into a gap between the rails and covered him with his own body just as the train entered the station. Both men survived.

"I don't feel like I did something spectacular; I just saw someone who needed help," Mr. Autrey said. "I did what I felt was right."

An act of honesty by airport screener

NEW DELHI: In a display of honesty, a security agent at the Indira Gandhi International Airport handed over a small plastic bag with US $3,000 in cash to a passenger who had completely forgotten the bag after it passed through the airport screening machine.

Noticing that the bag had been left behind, Dalbir Singh made an announcement asking passengers to come forward to claim it. However, when no one claimed it, Singh inspected the baggage tag and guessed it probably belonged to a passenger en route to Mumbai. An announcement was made on the next flight to Mumbai, and the owner of the bag came forward to collect it.

Singh was given a cash reward for his honesty.

TOP NOTCH

Grammar Booster

Use to / used to: use and form

Use to and used to express a past habitual action, but one that is no longer true today.

When I was a kid, I didn't use to eat vegetables. But now I do.

Remember: In yes / no questions and negative statements, use use to NOT used to.

I used to stay up late. Now I don't.

I didn't use to (NOT ~~used to~~) get up early. Now I do.

Did you use to (NOT ~~used to~~) go swimming more often?

Note: The simple past tense can express a past habitual action if there is a reference to a period of time in the past.

When I was a kid, I didn't eat peppers. I still don't today.

A On a separate sheet of paper, change each statement into a yes / no question.

I used to go running every day. Did you use to go running every day?

- 1 There used to be a large tree in front of your house.
- 2 Mr. and Mrs. Palmer used to go swimming every weekend.
- 3 Their grandmother used to put sugar in their orange juice.
- 4 Luke used to be very overweight.

B On a separate sheet of paper, use the prompts to write logical sentences with negative or affirmative forms of use to / used to.

- 2 There / be a movie theater on Smith Street, but now there isn't.
- 3 No one / worry about fatty foods, but now most people do.
- 4 English / be an international language, but now everyone uses English to communicate around the world.
- 5 Women in North America / wear pants, but now it's very common for them to wear them.

Be used to / get used to

Be used to + a noun phrase means to be accustomed to something. Compare use to / used to with be used to.

I didn't use to like spicy food. But now I do. (used to + base form)

I'm used to the noise now. But at first, it really bothered me. (be used to + a noun phrase)

Get used to + a noun phrase means to become accustomed to something.

You'll get used to the new menu after a few days.

Be careful! With be used to, don't change used in negative statements or questions.

He wasn't used to the weather there. NOT He wasn't use to . . .

Are you used to life here? NOT Are you use to . . .

C Check the sentences in which used to means "accustomed to something."

Repeated actions in the past: would + base form

You can also use would + the base form of a verb to describe repeated past actions. In this use, would has the same meaning as used to.

When we were young, our parents would go camping with us. (= used to go camping with us.)

Be careful! With non-action verbs that don't describe repeated actions, use used to, not would.

I used to have a lot of clothes. NOT I ~~would have~~ a lot of clothes.

My hometown used to be Dakar. NOT My hometown ~~would be~~ Dakar.

I used to be a terrible English student. NOT I ~~would be~~ a terrible English student.

UNIT 7 Lesson 1

Gerunds and infinitives: usage within sentences

Gerunds (-ing form of a verb) and infinitives (to + base form) function as nouns within sentences.

Gerunds

Like nouns, gerunds can be subjects, subject complements, direct objects, and objects of prepositions.

Painting is my favorite leisure-time activity. (subject)

My favorite activity is painting. (subject complement; usually follows be)

I enjoy painting. (direct object)

I read a book about the history of painting. (object of the preposition of)

Infinitives

Infinitives can be subjects, subject complements, and direct objects.

To paint well is a talent. (subject)

The only thing he needs is to paint. (subject complement; usually follows be)

I want to paint. (direct object)

Underline the gerunds and circle the infinitives in these sentences. How is each used in the sentence? On the line next to each sentence, write S for subject, C for subject complement, DO for direct object, or OP for object of a preposition.

- ..... 1 I enjoy watching old movies every night on TV.
- ..... 2 Her greatest dream was to see all of her children attend college.
- ..... 3 What's the point of creating a nice environment at home if genetics is the only thing that counts?
- ..... 4 Avoiding too much pressure helps children become less critical.
- ..... 5 My niece plans to study personality development next semester.

UNIT 7 Lesson 2

A gerund can be made negative by using a negative word before it.

I like not going to bed too late.

They complained about never having enough time.

Complete the paragraph with affirmative and negative gerunds.

I really want to do something to improve my appearance and lose weight. I'm sick of ..... able to fit into my clothes. I know it's not enough to complain about ..... weight—I need to do something about it! I plan to spend every afternoon ..... my bike. Also, I want to go on a diet, but I'm afraid of ..... hungry all the time. I worry about ..... enough energy to exercise if I'm ..... enough to eat.

The passive voice: transitive verbs and intransitive verbs

A transitive verb can have a direct object. Transitive verbs can be used in the active voice or passive voice.

Remember: The subject of a sentence performs the action of the verb. A direct object receives the action of the verb.

active voice                                      passive voice
Picasso  painted  Guernica in 1937. → Guernica  was painted  in 1937.

An intransitive verb cannot have a direct object. With an intransitive verb, there is no “receiver” of an action.

Common intransitive verbs

The painting  arrives  tomorrow.
The Mona Lisa  will stay  at the Louvre.
That new sculpture  looks  like a Botero.

My phone works well. My printer prints fast.

Many adjectives can be changed to adverbs by adding -ly.

loud → loudly	quick → quickly	quiet → quietly
poor → poorly	bad → badly	slow → slowly

B On a separate sheet of paper, rewrite each pair of sentences into a single sentence using comparatives. Then write single sentences using as . . . as.

UNIT 10 Lesson 1

Should and ought to; had better

Use should or ought to + a base form to state an opinion or give advice, especially about an ethical choice. Ought to has the same meaning as should, but should is slightly less formal.

You should (or ought to) return the wallet. You shouldn't keep it.

Use had better + a base form to state an opinion or give stronger advice. The meaning is similar to should and ought to, but had better expresses the idea that there is a consequence for not doing something.

You'd better tell the waiter that the check is wrong. If you don't, he will have to pay.

You'd better not eat at the Fairway Café. I got sick there the last time I did.

Remember: Should, ought to, and had better precede other verbs and give them a special meaning. They never change form.

Note: In American English it's very uncommon to use ought to in negative statements or questions. Use should or shouldn't instead.

A On a separate sheet of paper, complete the statements about an ethical choice, expressing your own ideas.

- 1 Colleagues in an office should always .....
- 2 Parents of young children should not .....
- 3 We ought to tell the store owner when .....
- 4 You forgot to pay your check? You had better .....
- 5 We had better not ..... It's too expensive.

B On a separate sheet of paper, write five suggestions to a visitor to your country, using had better or had better not.

“ You'd better not take the local train to Bradbury. It's too slow. ”

Have to, must, and be supposed to

Have to and must

Use have to or the modal must + a base form to express obligation when there is no other choice of action available.

Students must take this exam.

You have to take the 6:00 train if you want to arrive on time.

Use don't have to (NOT must) to express a lack of obligation.

You don't have to pay for the shoes if you don't like them. You can return them.

Use must not (NOT don't have to) for a strong or legal prohibition.

Passengers must not leave their baggage unattended in the waiting area.

Be supposed to

Use be supposed to (or not be supposed to) + a base form to express an expected, but not a required, action. The degree of obligation is weaker than with have to or must.

We're supposed to pay our check at the front of the coffee shop, not at the table. (The restaurant expects diners to pay at the front.)

Hotel guests are not supposed to use the towels from their rooms at the pool.

Note: Must is very formal and not very common in speaking. It is generally used by a person in authority (e.g., a teacher or boss) to state policy or law. Have to is much more common in both speaking and writing. The more informal have got to is also common in spoken English.

Sorry, I've got to hurry. I'm going to be late.

Don't use must not for a lack of obligation. Use don't have to or doesn't have to.

C On a separate sheet of paper, write each sentence two ways: with must and with have to.

- 1 Drivers / obey the speed limit.
- 2 Students / arrive on time for class.
- 3 In this beach restaurant / diners / wear shoes. If you are barefoot, don't come in.
- 4 You / have a reservation to eat at the Palace Restaurant.

D On a separate sheet of paper, write five sentences that describe actions your school expects from its students. Use be supposed to.

Students are supposed to come on time to class. They're not supposed to be late.

E Choose the sentence closer in meaning to each numbered statement or question.

- 1 Do you think the Milton Restaurant is a good place to eat?
a Do you think I should eat at the Milton Restaurant?
b Do you think I have to eat at the Milton Restaurant?
- 2 If you don't have a reservation, the restaurant won't give you a table.
a The restaurant is supposed to give you a table.
b You had better have a reservation.
- 3 They don't accept credit cards in this store. They only accept cash.
a You have to pay with cash.
b You ought to pay with cash.
- 4 Don't wear shorts in the restaurant.
a You must not wear shorts in the restaurant.
b You don't have to wear shorts in the restaurant.

UNIT 10 Lesson 2

Possessive nouns: review and expansion

Add 's (an apostrophe + s) to a name or a singular noun.

- Where is Glenn's car?      What's your daughter's married name?
This is Ms. Baker's class.      I love Dickens's novels.

Add an apostrophe to plural nouns that end in s. For irregular plurals, such as women or children, add 's.

- the women's room      the boys' clothes      the Jacksons' car

Add 's to the name or noun that comes last in a list of two or more.

- Jean and Ralph's house

A Correct the following sentences, adding an apostrophe or an apostrophe + s to the possessive nouns.

They gave Susan the toy car for the children.

They gave it to her for them.

UNIT 6 Connecting ideas: subordinating conjunctions

A subordinating conjunction connects a dependent clause to an independent clause.

_____ independent clause _____ _____ dependent clause _____
 People are eating more fast foods today because they want to save time.
 I generally avoid carbohydrates even though it isn't easy.

Subordinating conjunctions

because	unless
since	although
if	(even) though

A dependent clause can also come at the beginning of a sentence. Use a comma after the dependent clause when it comes first.

_____ dependent clause _____ _____ independent clause _____
Because people want to save time, they are eating more fast foods today.
Even though it isn't easy, I generally avoid carbohydrates.

Use the subordinating conjunction if to express a condition. Use unless to express a negative condition.

You will be healthy if you eat right and exercise regularly.
 You will gain weight unless you eat right and exercise regularly. (= if you don't)

Use the subordinating conjunctions although, even though, or though to express a contradiction.

Although
Even though they knew fatty foods were unhealthy, people ate them anyway.
Though

Remember: Use because or since to give a reason.

A Choose the best subordinating conjunction to complete each sentence.

- (Though / If / Unless) I learn to speak English well, I will be very happy.
- (Even though / Because / If) she is an artist, she is interested in science.
- Studying English is important (although / because / unless) it can help you do more.
- (Unless / Although / Since) English grammar isn't easy, I like studying it.
- They have to go on a diet (because / unless / though) they're overweight.
- He cut back on desserts and sodas (even though / if / because) he didn't want to.
- (Even though / Because / Unless) my grandmother is 80 years old, she is in very good health.
- (Unless / Because / Though) I think I'm going to get sick, I don't want to change my eating habits.
- She won't eat red meat (because / unless / although) she has to.
- (Unless / Even though / Since) she's a vegetarian, she sometimes eats fish.

B Read each sentence. Then, on a separate sheet of paper, write and connect a clause to the sentence, using the subordinating conjunction.

- Most people don't want to change their eating habits. (even though)
- Children become overweight. (if)
- Obesity will continue to be a global problem. (unless)
- Eating too much fast food is bad for you. (because)
- Most people continue to eat unhealthy foods. (although)

1 Most people don't want to change their eating habits even though they have health problems.

C Guidance for the Writing Exercise (on page 72) Using four different subordinating conjunctions, write four sentences: two about eating habits in the past and two about eating habits in the present. Use your sentences in your paragraph about eating habits.

UNIT 7 Parallel structure

When writing a series of words or phrases in a sentence, be sure that all items in the series are in the same grammatical form. This feature of good writing is called “parallel structure.”

Lance is creative. He likes painting, playing the piano, and acting. (all items in the series are gerunds)

Be careful! Don't combine gerunds and infinitives in the same series.

Don't write: Lance is creative. He likes painting, ~~to play~~ the piano, and acting.

In a series of infinitives, it is correct to use to before each item in the series or to use to only before the first item.

- ✗ I decided to study medicine, get married, and ~~to~~ have children before my thirtieth birthday.
- ✓ I decided to study medicine, to get married, and to have children before my thirtieth birthday.
- ✓ I decided to study medicine, get married, and have children before my thirtieth birthday.

Remember: When a sentence includes a series of more than two words or phrases, separate them with commas. Use and before the last item in the series. The comma before and is optional.

no comma (two items)

commas (three items)

Jake and Nick have three favorite activities: painting, singing, and acting.

A Correct the errors in parallel structure in the sentences.

- 1 I have begun studying psychology and to learn about personality development.
- 2 They avoid arguing about the nature-nurture controversy and to disagree about which is more important.
- 3 The Bersons love to run, to swim, and lift weights.
- 4 She's both responsible and social. She prefers to study early in the evening and going out afterwards.
- 5 Introverts hate to talk about their feelings and being with a lot of people.
- 6 Marjorie is a classic extrovert. She likes to be very active, knowing a lot of people, and to seek excitement.
- 7 To be quiet, be hard to know, and to seek peace are traits typical of the introvert's personality.
- 8 Psychologists of the nineteenth century continued believing in the importance of genetics and to write about it in books and articles.

B Guidance for the Writing Exercise (on page 84) On a separate sheet of paper, write sentences to answer some or all the following questions about the person you chose. If appropriate, use verbs and phrases from the box on the right. Be careful to use parallel structure. Use the sentences in your paragraphs about the person.

- Who is the person?
- What is his or her relation to you?
- Who are the people in his or her family?
- How many siblings does he or she have?
- What kind of personality does he or she have?
- What are his or her likes and dislikes?
- Are there some things he or she is excited about, bored with, angry about, or worried about right now?
- Are there some things he or she is excited about, bored with, angry about, or worried about right now?

Words to describe likes / dislikes

avoids	hopes
hates	would like
can't stand	is happy about
doesn't mind	is excited about enjoys	is bored with
expects	is sick and tired of

Remember: A good paragraph has a topic sentence that clearly states what the main idea of the paragraph is.

In addition, a paragraph should have supporting details—that is, information that provides support for, and is clearly tied to, the topic sentence.

Be careful! If a detail doesn't support the topic sentence or isn't tied to it clearly, then it may not belong in the paragraph.

In the writing model to the right, the topic sentence of the paragraph is highlighted in yellow. The sentences that follow are details. Two of the sentences are crossed out because they do not support the topic sentence and should not be included in the paragraph. These two sentences do not provide information about the chair and do not indicate why the writer likes the chair. The remaining sentences are supporting details—they all support the topic sentence and are clearly tied to it. They provide more information about the chair and they explain why the writer likes the chair.

In my living room, my favorite possession is an old wooden chair. My parents gave it to me when I left home. ~~A wooden chair can be very expensive if it is an antique.~~ It has lots of memories for me because it was in my parents' bedroom when I was growing up. ~~It's important to take very good care of wooden furniture.~~ The chair is very comfortable, and I used to sit in it a lot as a child.

A Read each topic sentence. Circle the detail that does not support the topic sentence.

- 1 Many French artists in the nineteenth century were influenced by Japanese art and printmaking.
  - a Today, the work of Hokusai, Japan's most famous printmaker, is popular in Western countries.
  - b Looking at the work of the French impressionists, it is clear that they chose to imitate the Japanese artistic styles of the time.
  - c A number of French artists had collections of Japanese art.
- 2 I love my poster of Álvaro Saborío, the Costa Rican soccer player, but my wife hates it.
  - a I think Saborío is a great player.
  - b My wife doesn't think I should keep it in our bedroom.
  - c The number on Saborío's uniform is 15.
- 3 Rodin's statue, The Thinker, is probably one of the most famous sculptures in the world.
  - a This metal sculpture of a man deep in thought is recognized all over the world.
  - b Rodin was born on November 12, 1840.
  - c The image of The Thinker can be seen in popular art and advertisements.
- 4 On a side table in my dining room, I have two small ceramic figures of lions from my trip to Taipei.
  - a They have beautiful colors including red, green, blue, and yellow.
  - b You should visit the National Palace Museum when you are in Taipei.

  - b He has acted in school plays since he was about ten years old.
  - c I think he's going to follow a career as an actor.
- 6 I think artistic talent is something you're born with.
  - a I've tried many times to improve my ability at drawing, but it hasn't worked.
  - b I have friends who are very talented in art, but they've never taken any special classes.
  - c My aunt studied art at the Art Institute of Chicago for four years.

- B Guidance for the Writing Exercise (on page 96) On the notepad, write the favorite object you chose. Create a topic sentence that states the most important thing you want to say about that object. Then write five supporting details to use in your paragraph.

Favorite object:
Topic sentence:
Details to support my topic sentence:
1.
2.
3.
4.
5.

UNIT 9 Organizing ideas

When you want to describe the benefits and problems of an issue, there are different ways you can organize your ideas. Here are some approaches.

Approach 1: In one paragraph

One way is to describe all the advantages and disadvantages in one paragraph. Following are notes of the details that will be included in the paragraph.

THE ADVANTAGES AND DISADVANTAGES OF SMART PHONES

Advantages: are easy to carry, don't miss calls, keep you connected with family and friends

Disadvantages: bother other people, make people dependent, are easy to lose

This approach is good for a short piece of writing consisting of only a few sentences. However, if you want to develop those ideas in more than just a few sentences, it is easier for the reader to follow if you can organize the details in one of the following ways:

Approach 2: In two paragraphs

In this approach, you can use a first paragraph to describe all the advantages. Then you can use a second paragraph to describe all the disadvantages. Following are notes of the details that will be included in each paragraph.

Paragraph 1: SMART PHONES HAVE ADVANTAGES

are easy to carry, don't miss calls, keep you connected with family and friends

Paragraph 2: BUT THEY ALSO HAVE DISADVANTAGES

bother other people, make people dependent, are easy to lose

Approach 3: In more than two paragraphs

In this approach, you can use a separate paragraph to focus on each different topic. In each paragraph, you can describe both advantages and disadvantages. Following are notes of the details that will be included in each paragraph.

Paragraph 1: (THEY'RE SMALL.) smart phones easy to carry, but also easy to lose

Paragraph 2: (THEY'RE CONVENIENT.) won't miss calls, but you can also bother other people

Paragraph 3: (THEY'VE CHANGED OUR LIVES.) keep people connected with family and friends, but also can make people dependent

- A Using Approach 2, organize the ideas into two paragraphs: paragraph 1 is about the benefits of renting a car; paragraph 2 is about the problems. Write 1 or 2 next to each idea.
- ___ It gives you the freedom to go wherever you want to go whenever you want.
  - ___ You might see places you can't see by bus or train.
  - ___ You could have an accident during your trip.
  - ___ You have more control over whether or not you will have an accident during your trip.
  - ___ You can carry more luggage and other things you might need.
  - ___ To drive safely, you have to become familiar with the local driving rules.
  - ___ If you're traveling with a group of people, it could cost less than paying for bus and train tickets.
  - ___ You may have to understand road signs that are in a different language.
  - ___ If you have to do all the driving, it can be very stressful and tiring.
  - ___ If you're traveling alone or with one other person, it could cost a lot of money in rental fees and gas.
- B Now, on a separate sheet of paper, practice using Approach 3. Organize the sentences from Exercise A by topic into three or more separate paragraphs. Don't forget to include a topic sentence.
- C Guidance for the Writing Exercise (on page 108) Use your notes on page 107 to write your paragraphs about the benefits and problems of the Internet. Choose Approach 2 or Approach 3 to organize your writing.

UNIT 10 Introducing conflicting ideas: On the one hand; On the other hand

Use On the one hand and On the other hand to present conflicting ideas or two sides of an issue. The following two sentences present the two sides together, one right after the other.

On the one hand, I would want to tell the truth. On the other hand, I wouldn't want to get in trouble.

Remember: You can also present conflicting or contradictory information with Even though, Although, and However.

Even though I'm basically an honest person, I don't always tell the truth.

Although Matt didn't think he broke the dish, it's possible that he did.

Matt wanted to tell the owner of the store what happened. However, Noah didn't agree.

When one paragraph presents one side of an issue and the next one presents the other, writers don't usually use On the one hand in the first paragraph. Instead, they just begin the next paragraph with On the other hand to let the reader know that the conflicting idea will follow. Look at the writing model to the right.

Being honest has many advantages. If you always tell the truth, you don't have to remember an untruth you said before. People who tell the truth don't have trouble sleeping. They can look at themselves in the mirror and feel good.

On the other hand, there are times when telling a lie makes sense. For example, your friend Andrew might ask you if you like his new jacket, and you think it's ugly. If you told him that, it would hurt his feelings. It's possible that not being absolutely truthful might make more sense.

- A Reread the Photo Story on page 111. Write a summary of the story in three to five sentences. Answer the questions below.
- Where was Matt?
  - Who was he with?
  - What happened?
  - What did the two friends discuss?
- B Answer the questions below. Write three to five sentences about Matt's choices. Then write the consequences of each choice. Use If and the unreal conditional in at least one sentence.
- What should he do?
  - What could he do?
  - What would most people do?
- C Write three to five sentences about what you would do if you were Matt. Answer the questions below.
- What would you do?
  - What would happen if you did that?
  - What would happen if you didn't?
- D Guidance for the Writing Exercise (on page 120) In your paragraphs about Matt's dilemma, use On the one hand, On the other hand, Even though, Although, and However to connect conflicting ideas.

▶ 1:16–1:17 Greetings and Small Talk [Unit 1]

You look so familiar. Have we met before?
I don't think you're from around here.
It might have been two weeks ago, but I'm not sure.
Has it been a month or a year?
I have a funny feeling that I've met you twice.
That's what they call déjà vu.
You were saying something friendly, trying to be nice—and now you're being friendly, too.
One look, one word.
It's the friendliest sound that I've ever heard.
Thanks for your greetings.
I'm glad this meeting occurred.

(CHORUS)

Greetings and small talk make the world go round.
On every winding road I've walked,
this is what I've found.

Have you written any letters to your friends back home?
Have you had a chance to do that?
Have you spoken to your family on the telephone?
Have you taken time for a chat?
Bow down, shake hands.
Do whatever you do in your native land.
I'll be happy to greet you in any way that you understand.

(CHORUS)

Have you seen the latest movie out of Hollywood?
Have you read about it yet?
If you haven't eaten dinner, are you in the mood for a meal you won't forget?
Bow down, shake hands.
Do whatever you do in your native land.
I'll be happy to greet you in any way that you understand.

(CHORUS)

▶ 1:35–1:36 Better Late Than Never [Unit 2]

Where have you been? I've waited for you.
I'd rather not say how long.
The movie began one hour ago.
How did you get the time all wrong?
Well, I got stuck in traffic, and when I arrived I couldn't find a parking place.
Did you buy the tickets? You're kidding—for real?

Let me pay you back, in that case.

(CHORUS)

Sorry I'm late.
I know you've waited here forever.
How long has it been?
It's always better late than never.

When that kind of movie comes to the big screen,
it always attracts a crowd,
and I've always wanted to see it with you—but it looks like we've missed it now.
I know what you're saying, but actually,
I would rather watch a video.

So why don't we rent it and bring it back home?
Let's get in the car and go.

(CHORUS)

Didn't you mention, when we made our plans, that you've seen this movie recently?
It sounds so dramatic, and I'm so upset,
I'd rather see a comedy!
Well, which comedy do you recommend?
It really doesn't matter to me.
I still haven't seen 'The World and a Day'.
I've heard that one is pretty funny.

(CHORUS)

▶ 2:17–2:18 Checking Out [Unit 3]

Ms. Jones travels all alone.
She doesn't need much space—a single room with a nice twin bed and a place for her suitcase.
Her stay is always satisfactory, but in the morning she's going to be checking out.
Mr. Moon will be leaving soon, and when he does I'll say, "Thank you, sir, for staying with us. How do you want to pay?"
And in the end it isn't hard.
He'll put it on his credit card. He's checking out.
Would you like to leave a message?
Could you call back later?
Do you need some extra towels or today's newspaper?
Can I get you anything?
Would you like room service?
I'm so sorry.
Am I making you nervous?
Good evening.
I'll ring that room for you.
Is that all?

I'll be glad to put you through.
I'm sorry, but he's not answering.
The phone just rings and rings.
The couple in room 586 have made a king-size mess.
Pick up the laundry. Turn down the beds.
We have another guest coming with his family.
You'd better hurry or they will be checking out. . .

▶ 2:36–2:37 Wheels around the World [Unit 4]

Was I going too fast or a little too slow?
I was looking out the window, and I just don't know.
I must have turned the steering wheel a little too far when I drove into the bumper of that luxury car.
Oh no!
How awful!
What a terrible day!
I'm sorry to hear that.
Are you OK?

(CHORUS)

Wheels around the World
are waiting here with your car.
Pick it up.

Turn it on.

Play the radio.

Wheels around the World—
"helping you to go far."
You can drive anywhere.

Buckle up and go.

Did I hit the red sedan,
or did it hit me?
I was talking on the cell phone in my SUV.
Nothing was broken,
and no one was hurt,
but I did spill some coffee on my favorite shirt.
Oh no!

Thank goodness you're still alive!
I'm so happy that you survived.

(CHORUS)

What were you doing when you hit that tree?
I was racing down the mountain, and the brakes failed me.
How did it happen? Was the road still wet?
Well, there might have been a danger sign,
But I forget.
The hood popped open and the door fell off.
The headlights blinked and the engine coughed.
The side-view mirror had a terrible crack.
The gearshift broke. Can I bring the car back?
Oh no!
Thank goodness you're still alive!
I'm so happy that you survived.

(CHORUS)

▶ 3:17–3:18 Piece of Cake [Unit 5]

I need to pick up a few things on the way back to school.
Feel like stopping at a store with me?
I'd like to, but I think I'll pass.
I don't have time today.
It's already nearly a quarter to three.

(CHORUS)

Don't worry. We'll be fine.
How long can it take?
It's easy. It'll be a piece of cake.

I need a tube of toothpaste and a bar of Luvly soap,
some sunscreen, and a bottle of shampoo.
Where would I find makeup?
How about a comb?
Have a look in aisle one or two.

(CHORUS)

I have an appointment for a haircut at The Spa.
On second thought, they're always running late.
My class starts in an hour.
I'll never make it now.
How long do you think we'll have to wait?

(CHORUS)

They say there's someone waiting for a trim ahead of me.
Can I get you some coffee or some tea?
OK. In the meantime,
I'll be getting something strong for this headache at the pharmacy!

(CHORUS)

▶ 3:37–3:38 A Perfect Dish [Unit 6]

I used to eat a lot of fatty foods,
but now I just avoid them.
I used to like chocolate and lots of sweets,
but now those days are gone.
To tell you the truth,
it was too much trouble.
They say you only live once,
but I'm not crazy about feeling sick.
What was going wrong?
Now I know I couldn't live without this.
Everything's ready.
Why don't you sit down?

(CHORUS)

It looks terrific,
but it smells pretty awful.
What in the world can it be?
It smells like chicken,
and it tastes like fish—
a terrific dish
for you and me—
a perfect dish for you
and me.

I used to be a big meat eater,
now I'm vegetarian,
and I'm not much of a coffee drinker.
I can't stand it anymore.
I'm avoiding desserts with sugar.
I'm trying to lose some weight.
Some things just don't agree with me.
They're bad for me, I'm sure.
Would you like some?
Help yourself.
Isn't it so good for you health?

(CHORUS)

Aren't you going to have some?
Don't you like it?
Wasn't it delicious?
Don't you want some more?

▶ 4:13–4:14 The Colors of Love [Unit 7]

Are you sick and tired of working hard day and night?
Do you like to look at the world in shades of black and white?
Your life can still be everything that you were dreaming of.
Just take a look around you and see all the colors of love.
You wake up every morning and go through the same old grind.
You don't know how the light at the window could be so unkind. If blue is the color that you choose when the road is rough, you know you really need to believe in the colors of love.

(CHORUS)

The colors of love
are as beautiful as a rainbow.

The colors of love shine on everyone in the world.

Are negative thoughts and emotions painful to express?
They're just tiny drops in the ocean of happiness.
And these are the feelings you must learn to rise above.
Your whole life is a picture you paint with the
colors of love.

▶ 4:28–4:29 To Each His Own [Unit 8]

He doesn't care for Dali.
The colors are too bright.
He says that Picasso got everything just right.
She can't stand the movies
that are filmed in Hollywood.
She likes Almodóvar.
She thinks he's really good.
He's inspired by everything
she thinks is second-rate.
She's moved and fascinated by the things he loves to hate.
He's crazy about art that only turns her heart to stone.
I guess that's why they say
to each his own.
He likes pencil drawings.
She prefers photographs.
He takes her to the the art museum,
but she just laughs and laughs.
He loves the Da Vinci
that's hanging by the door.
She prefers the modern art
that's lying on the floor.
"No kidding! You'll love it. Just wait and see.
It's perfect in every way."
She shakes her head. "It's not for me.
It's much too old and gray."
She thinks he has the worst taste that the world has ever known.
I guess that's why they say
to each his own.
But when it's time to say goodbye,
they both feel so alone.
I guess that's why they say
to each his own.

▶ 5:16–5:17 Life in Cyberspace [Unit 9]

I'm just fooling around.
Am I interrupting you?
Well, I wanted to know—
what are you up to?
I tried to send some photos,
but it's been so long that I almost don't remember how to log on.
So I'm thinking about getting a
new computer.
I don't know what kind. I should have done
it sooner.
But I heard the Panatel is as good as the rest.
Check it out. Check it out.
You should really check it out.

(CHORUS)

Let's face it—that's life.
That's life in cyberspace.

When you download the pictures,
then you open the files.
If your computer's slow,
then it can take a little while.
From the pull-down menu,
you can print them, too.
But don't forget to save
everything you do.
Scroll it up. Scroll it down.
Put your cursor on the bar.
Then click on the icon,
and you'll see my new car!
The car goes as fast
as the one I had before.
Check it out. Check it out.
You should really check it out.

(CHORUS)

Am I talking to myself, or are you still there?
This instant message conversation's going nowhere.
I could talk to Liz.
She isn't nearly as nice.
It isn't quite as much fun.
I've done it once or twice.
What's the problem?
Come on. Give it a try.
If you don't want to be friends,
at least tell me why.
Did you leave to make a call or go out to get some cash?
Did the photos I sent make your computer crash?

How to make healthy lifestyle changes that last

If you've ever tried to change the way you eat or to lead a more active lifestyle, you know it isn't easy. Making a lifestyle change is challenging—and it's especially difficult to make changes that last. Often people try to make many big changes all at once without a clear idea of how they will accomplish their goals. They may struggle, get disappointed, and give up after a short period of time. Here are some tips to help you make healthy changes that become lifelong habits:

- 1 Make one change at a time. Replacing unhealthy behaviors with healthy ones takes time. If you try to change too much too fast, you won't be successful. Focus on one change you'd like to make. If your goal is to improve your eating habits, choose one thing to cut back on or add to your diet. Maybe resolve to stop drinking soda or eat some vegetables or fruit with every meal. When a new healthy behavior becomes part of your normal daily routine, you can take on another change.
- 2 Start small. Changes are often easier to make if they are small. Don't expect yourself to go from lying on the sofa watching TV every night to spending an hour a night at the gym. Instead, take “baby steps.” For example, you could start by exercising twice a week for 30 minutes. Then, when you've done this successfully for a few weeks, try three times a week for 45 minutes.
- 3 Make a realistic plan. When you decide to make a lifestyle change, you need to plan what you will do and when, where, how often, etc. If more exercise is your goal, figure out how you will schedule it into your week and put it on your calendar. If you want to eat healthier, write down meals and snacks for the week. Keep the foods you'll need on hand, and consult your plan before you eat. Make sure the plan you create is achievable and that it works for your lifestyle. For example, if you're a big meat eater, a plan to eat only vegetables is not going to happen! Likewise, if you're not a morning person, don't plan daily workouts at 5:00 A.M.!

13 Complete the statements with words and phrases from the box.

“baby step”      challenging      habits      realistic      struggle      successful

1. You want the changes you make to become _____ which you do regularly without thinking.
2. It's difficult to make lifestyle changes. You may _____, but don't give up.
3. If you try to make many big changes all at once, you probably won't be _____.
4. If you want to stop drinking coffee, you could start by drinking two cups every morning instead of three. This is a _____.
5. When you plan to make a change, be _____. Set goals you can accomplish and that work for your lifestyle.
6. Trying to change the way you eat is _____. It takes a lot of effort.

14 Think about a lifestyle change you have tried to make. Was your change successful? On a separate sheet of paper, explain why or why not.

- 10 Read the posts on an online message board. Rank the people from 1 to 5, with 1 being the least introverted and 5 being the most extroverted.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with a menu bar (File, Edit, Links, Tools, Help, Chat) and window control buttons. The main content area has a topic and a list of responses.

TOPIC: Do you consider yourself an introvert or an extrovert? Or are you a little bit of both?

RESPONSES

- (A) Posted by: Moonlight / Mon, March 15 (10:01 P.M.) I'm probably more of an introvert . . . it really depends, though. When you first meet me, I'm really quiet. But after I spend some time with a person, I open up. ____
- (B) Posted by: Ginger / Mon, March 15 (10:09 P.M.) I'm definitely an extrovert. My friends (I have a lot of them!) say that I'm always talking. I'm interested in all sorts of events—sports, music, computers! I can talk for hours about whatever comes to mind . . . OK. I should stop now. LOL ____
- (C) Posted by: missbliss / Mon, March 15 (10:21 P.M.) For the most part, I'm an introvert. I enjoy being alone, and I keep my thoughts and emotions to myself, but I know a few people well, and with those people I'm almost an extrovert. ____
- (D) Posted by: citysurfer / Mon, March 15 (10:46 P.M.) I'm an extrovert. I really need to interact with other people and be active. But I always try to listen to other people when I'm in a group. Although I love excitement, sometimes I need to have some peace and quiet! ____
- (E) Posted by: ShyGuy / Mon, March 15 (11:19 P.M.) Introvert . . . but I don't want to talk about it. ____

- 11 Are you an introvert, an extrovert, or a little of both? Write your own reply to the message board topic in Exercise 10.

12 Read the facts about only children. Then answer the questions.

What does being an only child say about you?

FACT #1. They have higher IQs.

A 20-year study showed that only children had very strong verbal skills that possibly came from joining in on their parents' conversations at the dinner table.

FACT #4. They have as many friends as any other child.

Professor and researcher Toni Falbo spent 35 years researching only children. He hasn't found any proof to say that only children are lonelier than children with siblings.

FACT #2. They are more confident than other children.

Only child teenagers have a higher "index of confidence" about themselves and their abilities than other teenagers. They think it is because they didn't grow up with older siblings teasing them and calling them names.

FACT #5. They are happier than children with siblings.

A 2010 study surveyed 2,500 children. The outcome was that only children were happier than children with siblings, on average. This happiness was due to only children not having to compete for their parents' attention.

FACT #3. They are not spoiled.

Studies have shown that only children are not more spoiled than other children, even though they do not have the opportunity to learn to share their things with other siblings.

FACT #6. They do better in academics.

Research has shown that only or older children score higher on achievement tests. Most only children also move on to undergraduate studies.

11 Read the article about how to develop artistic talent.

Nurturing Your Artistic Talent

1

So, you'd like to improve your artistic ability, but you think you don't have any natural talent? The truth is you don't have to be born with talent to be a good artist—and to enjoy making art. Artistic skill can be learned.

2

Many people who try painting get frustrated and give up because they feel they lack the “artistic gene.” However, the real problem is that they have just never been trained to look at the world like an artist. When non-artists look at the subject of a drawing, they see it with the left side of their brains. They immediately begin figuring out the meaning of what they see. An artist pays attention to what is actually being seen—the lines. Are they straight or curved? Dark or light? Where do they intersect?

3

Want to learn to see like an artist? Try this exercise. Find a large photo of a face and try to draw it. It's OK if your drawing looks bad. Then turn the photo upside down and try again. This time focus only on the relationships of the intersecting lines and shapes. Almost always, the upside-down drawing, when turned right side up, will be much better than the right-side-up version! How did this happen? By turning the photo upside down, the left side of your brain stopped looking at the photo as a face. Instead, the right side of your brain took over and began seeing the photo in a new way.

4

People who claim they have no artistic talent may actually have talent. But they may not be able to use it because they worry, “What will people think? Will I look silly? Will my piece be awful?” Young children rarely have these fears. They just enjoy the experience of creating something. To be successful at art, you will need to adopt the carefree attitude that you once had as a child. Don't worry about the results. Just relax and enjoy the experience of creating art.

5

Anyone can develop the necessary skills and understanding to create art. Those with natural talent are able to learn more quickly and easily, but even they will need training, practice, and hard work. So, stop making excuses and get started! Take art lessons, read books on art, and attend art exhibits. Expose yourself to a variety of techniques, kinds of art, and other artists. And think of becoming an artist as a lifetime journey. Stop worrying about making mistakes and enjoy the adventure!

Answer the questions, according to the article. Circle the letter.

1. What is the main idea of paragraph 2?
  - a. Lacking the “artistic gene” is a real problem.
  - b. You should always draw faces upside down.
  - c. It’s important to learn to see like an artist.
  - d. Try to use the left side of your brain when you draw.
2. What is the main idea of paragraph 4?
  - a. Children are better artists than adults.
  - b. Fear of making mistakes prevents many adults from creating art.
  - c. Fear helps adults find their artistic talent.
  - d. Beginners’ artwork is usually silly.
3. What is the main idea of paragraph 5?
  - a. Artists with natural talent don’t have to work hard.
  - b. It takes a very long time to become a good artist.
  - c. Artistic ability can be improved by attending art shows.
  - d. Anyone can make art with practice and hard work.

12 Read the quotations by famous artists. Find a paragraph in the article that presents an opinion similar to that expressed by each artist. Write the number of the paragraph on the line.

1. _____

“Every child is an artist. The problem is how to remain an artist once we grow up.”

—Jackson Pollock

3. _____

—Henri Matisse

1. Which drawing was easier? _____
2. Which drawing took more time? _____
3. Which drawing looks more like the photograph? _____

- A Read the paragraph. Underline the topic sentence. Circle the supporting details. Cross out the two sentences that don't belong.

I have been to museums in countries all over the world, but my favorite painting is in a museum close to my home. I am a real fan of The Master's Bedroom by Andrew Wyeth because I find it very peaceful. Andrew Wyeth died in 2009 at the age of 91. The painting shows a dog curled up on a bed, taking an afternoon nap. Sunlight is coming in through the window and warming the dog. The painting makes me feel relaxed because the dog and the bed look so comfortable. The bedroom is very simple, and the colors in the painting are soft and neutral, making the scene seem really calm. ## Social Networking: Could It Hurt Your Job Search?

To be the best candidate for a job, you'll need more than an impressive résumé and a nice suit. You also need to make sure there isn't any information about you online that could cause an employer not to hire you. A recent study found that 77 percent of recruiters search the Internet for information about applicants they are considering for a job. Thirty-five percent of these same recruiters say they have rejected an applicant based on information they have found online.

"A profile on a social networking site can show you a lot more of a person's character than a résumé," says Jen Romney, a corporate recruiter who recently began looking up the names of applicants on the Web. "It's surprising what you can find. I once had to make a difficult decision between two excellent applicants. When I found one of the applicants' profile on a social networking site, the decision became much easier. The man's profile was full of negative comments about his job and boss. In one post he wrote, 'I'm calling in sick today—because I'm sick of work!' I don't need to tell you that he didn't get the job."

Romney warns that as people share more of their lives online, it becomes harder to keep one's private life completely private. "Everything is public," says Romney. "It's called the World Wide Web for a reason. Anyone in the world can see it."

While not all employers research potential employees online, it's worth being a little careful to make sure that social networking doesn't ruin your career opportunities. You can protect yourself by following four simple rules:

- 1. Think before you click. Before you post photos of you and your friends partying or comments about how you hate your job, ask yourself: Would I be comfortable talking about this in a job interview?
- 2. Take control. Most social networking sites have privacy controls. Take the time to figure them out and use them wisely. Set your controls so that only people you've chosen as "friends" can view your profile and post messages on your page.
- 3. Review. Check your profile regularly to see what has been posted. Type your name and e-mail address into a search engine to see what is on the Internet about you.
- 4. Delete. Remove any potentially embarrassing or offensive posts, information, or photos. Ask friends to delete anything inappropriate about you on their own profiles.

Use the context of the article to match the terms with their meanings.

Pro Golfer J. P. Hayes’s Act of Honesty

J. P. Hayes is a professional golfer. But Hayes has perhaps gotten more attention for an act of honesty than for his golf game. While playing in the first round of a PGA tournament in Texas, Hayes’ caddie handed him a ball from his golf bag. Hayes took two shots and then noticed the ball he was playing with was a different model than the ball he started the round with. This is against the rules in professional golf. So, Hayes asked an official to come over and told him about his mistake. The official said the penalty for the mistake was two shots. Even with the penalty, Hayes finished with a good score. He also did well in the second round and had a good chance of advancing to the final. Hayes had struggled with his game that year, so this tournament was important to his career.

After the second round of the tournament, Hayes was relaxing in his hotel room when he realized there might be another problem with the ball he played in the first round. He realized it was a new type of ball that probably wasn’t approved for competition by the United States Golf Association. Hayes had tested the new balls for a golf equipment company four weeks earlier. Apparently, one was left in his bag by accident.

Hayes knew that if he admitted his mistake, he would probably not be allowed to play full-time on the next year’s PGA tour. He also knew that no one else was aware of his mistake. Hayes had a choice: He could say nothing and keep playing, or he could admit that he had broken the rules and hurt his career.

Hayes decided to do the right thing. He called an official that night and, as expected, was disqualified from playing on the next PGA tour. Speaking about his mistake, Hayes said “It’s extremely disappointing. I keep thinking I’m going to wake up and this is going to be a bad nightmare.” However, Hayes never regretted his decision. “I would say everybody out here would have done the same thing,” he asserted. But the real question is: Would they? In a similar situation, would other professional athletes have acted as honestly as J. P. Hayes?
